UKIAH, MENDOCINO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, FEBRUARY 16, 1938

VOLUME LV—No. 40

DELUGE SWEPT MENDOCINO 22 DAYS TO DATE

Softening Of Roads Is Destined To Be Next Danger

MUCH DAMAGE IS DONE

Traffic Is Interferred With, Lines Down, Rivers Roaring

IT STOOD UP

The Golden Gate bridge, built to withstand a 90-mile gale with safety by bending with the wind, was blown 10 feet out of a straight line at the central span, bridge officials reported.

From Fort Bragg cames reports rain falling every day for 18 days has been more than many sections of road could stand up under, and highways and county roads have suffered from innumerable slides. Work crews have been busy and kept most of the major thoroughfares open, except for brief periods.

Another Big Slide.

On the north coast another big slide has come in at Hardy creek. Mail Contractor Ranny Sandley had just passed by when the slide started. It is 300 feet in extent and carried down the entire hillside, taking away part of the old road at the top of the hill. This entirely halted traffic for a short time, but the old road is being worked and traffic will go over it within a short time. Repairing the main road will be a difficult matter and it will require some time to remove the big slide and cut a new roadbed.

Trouble On Westport Grade.

The Westport grade has been giving some trouble but has been kept open thus far.

Willits Road Open.

The Fort Bragg-Willits road has been kept open except for minor delays of traffic, there being many small slides, and this week a large slide on the seven-mile grade east of James creek bridge.

Better In South.

The Shoreline highway south has stood up well, and stages have been going through to Monte Rio each day. However, the effect of the exceptional rainfall is shown in many places and the road, especially where it has been re-worked this winter is inclined to be rough.

Bad In Valley.

The road through Anderson Valley and Navarro is showing the effects of the wet winter. The water-soaked hillsides are spouting springs where they have not been evident for a long time, and the roadbed is being undermined in places by these. This condition prevails at a number of places along the Navarro river.

Rivers Running Full.

All coast rivers have been running bank full most of the time and their chocolate colored waters have discolored the ocean for some distance to sea. On Big river quite a few logs have floated down and there is a jam of some 500 or more at one of the old railroad bridges near Drydock. A "cat" was brought in from the upper camp Monday and taken down to this point to break the jam.

of Commerce, of which Paul Poulos is president, to be held in the social hall of the Methodist church. He will deal with current problems of direct concern to the business men and farmers and will give considerable attention to an examination of today's industrial disputes. Labor relations are of prime importance to citizens of California. Mr. Hume is thoroughly familiar with this subject and deals with it in a clear, direct and forceful manner. He criticizes racketeer labor leaders, chiseling employers and the indifferent public; all three being held responsible for chaotic conditions prevailing today in business, agriculture and industry.

Belongs To Crusaders.

Mr. Hume is director of The California Crusaders, a non-partisan organization devoted to support of sound government, defense of sensible economics and stimulation of greater appreciation of American citizenship. He is well-known to members of hundrds of service clubs throughout California. He is a graduate of University of California and Harvard University and enjoys a distinguished record in the field of public relations. Mr. Hume has devoted the last 10 years to the study of political and economic problems in California and is recognized as an authority on these subjects. A member of a pioneer family he is able to point out the effects of today's controversial issues on the agricultural, industrial and commercial interests of this state. Through the good offices of Geo. P. Anderson the speaker was secured.

SWANKY 'CLUB' ON CLEAR LAKE NOW ASSURED

Lucerne Hotel, Idle Since Built, Is To Be Opened

LE TRIANON IS SOLD?

John L. McNab Said To Have Disposed Of Interests

Lake county appears destined to get some excellent tourist attractions in the form of swanky hotels this year. A rumor, unconfirmed, it is true, has it John L. McNab has about completed a deal whereby he will relinquish ownership of beautiful Le Trianon, on Blue Lakes, and that plans of the new owners provide for a Class A Country Club Hotel on the shores of the lovely lake.

The Best Yet.

Hard on what is heard about Blue Lakes comes the refreshing news the fine hotel, costing $300,000, never completed, on the shores of Clear Lake, has been taken over and will be in readiness for tourist traffic in the spring.

An Exclusive Club.

Of the project this is what The Lakeport Bee has to say: The plan to make an exclusive Club at Hotel Lucerne has now been consummated, according to word received from H. S. West, president of the Cruickshank Company of New York, owners of the hotel property. He is now in San Francisco. As was stated in The Bee, when plans were only tentative, the large structure has been leased to M. S. Frankforst, formerly of Los Angeles, who was associated in the organizing of the Peter Pan Woodland Club, Lake Elsinore Country Club and Los Serranos Country Club, also exclusive and present successful golf clubs, it is stated.

Furnishings Enroute.

The Bee has been informed new and stylish furnishings for the hotel have been purchased and are now enroute to Lucerne.

G. A. FARADAY SEEKS OFFICE

Fort Bragg Attorney Would Be District Attorney

George A. Faraday, popular Fort Bragg attorney, has definitely decided to enter the race for district attorney of Mendocino county, and this week announces his candidacy for that office.

Urged To Run.

There has been much speculation on who would come out for the office and Mr. Faraday's announcement comes as no great surprise to his friends, who have been urging him to enter the race.

Here Four Years.

Mr. Faraday came to Mendocino county in 1934 and settled in Fort Bragg where he opened law offices. He has been prominent in civic affairs, not only in Fort Bragg, but in the county as well. He has served as president of the Fort Bragg Chamber of Commerce, as secretary of the Fort Bragg Associated Sportsmen, as chairman of the Fort Bragg Junior Chamber of Commerce, as Fort Bragg representative on the county committee of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta. He is now a director of the Shoreline Highway Association, a member of the Highway committee for the State Chamber of Commerce and a member of the executive board of the Fort Bragg Chamber of Commerce. Fraternally he belongs to the Native Sons, Eagles, Redmen and Knights of Pythias. He has worked diligently on every committee he has been named to and is thought of very highly in Fort Bragg. He is a graduate of University of California.

Independent Candidate.

Mr. Faraday is well equipped for the office he seeks. He is honest, aggressive and wide awake. He has no sponsoring bodies to please after election; he is completely on his own. He is conducting a successful law office at the present time, and if elected to the office he seeks may be counted on to conduct it in a very satisfactory manner.

Where Ambulance Would Have Aided

(Santa Rosa Republican)

Traveling more than 100 miles over tortuous roads in a sedan after falling from a ladder, breaking her leg and temporarily reducing the fracture with her own hands, Mrs. James Howard, 57, of Bridgeport, reached the General Hospital, Santa Rosa, at 2:30 o'clock in the morning. The accident victim was taken to Santa Rosa by Mr. and Mrs. James Brucker (Mrs. Brucker is a daughter of Mrs. Howard) who were called to the Mendocino county home of Mrs. Howard. Mrs. Howard fell from the ladder early in the afternoon and was alone for more than two hours after the mishap.

SANITY COMES AND WOMAN IS A MURDERESS!

Petaluma Slayer Of Her Lover To Face A New Ordeal

AT ASYLUM 3 YEARS

Killed Paramour As He Planned To Return To Wife

AT TALMAGE 3 YEARS

The unfortunate woman was brought to Talmage as an insane murderess in December 1934 and had been at the institution three years.

More than a year ago she began to manifest signs of sanity and was under observation a number of months before action was taken to have her returned to Sonoma county to have her tried for the murder, on the charges she escaped suffering when she pleaded "not guilty by reason of insanity" and had a jury find her insane.

After the superior court hearing here Friday in which she was declared to be sane, officials from the Sonoma county jail came to Talmage and have taken Mrs. Edith Wagner, 63-year-old Petaluma murderess back to Santa Rosa and soon she is to be tried for murder in that county.

Killed Boy Friend.

The aged woman will be accused of having killed her younger lover, he was about 49 years of age, who followed the trade of hardware salesman. The killing took place in the home

WILL C. F. LEA BECOME JUDGE

Congressman Likely To Be Given Federal Berth

Political reports received here indicate Clarence F. Lea, of Santa Rosa, will be given a federal judgeship. Congressman Lea, who has represented the First Congressional District many years, was snubbed by the administration two years ago when a vacancy on the federal bench in San Francisco occurred.

Was Turned Down.

After virtually being promisd the post, the appointment went to another aspirant, giving the Sonoma county man cause for considerable embarrassment.

Apperson Mentioned.

Rumors from San Rafael declare Gail D. Apperson, chairman of the Marin county board of supervisors, may be a candidate for the Republican congressional nomination in this district whether or not Congressman Lea gets his judgeship.

QUICK ACTION SAVED VICTIM IN 20-FT. FALL

Paul Poulos Suffered Broken Hip Aiding A Passenger

PLUNGED IN THE DARK

Athlete Prepared To Protect Himself In Crash To Ground

Paul Poulos, in a long, sensational wrestling career, during which he was light-middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast, has taken many falls, but the one he endured near here in the early morning hours Monday was his toughest and most disastrous.

Helping Passengers Transfer.

The highway in the vicinity of the Massoletti vineyard had gone out and difficulty was being experienced routing stages and transferring passengers across the slide. Poulos Brothers are agents for Greyhound Stages here and Mr. Poulos volunteered to go with the northbound stage and help transfer passengers. Arriving at the scene Mr. Poulos began his work of getting the passengers over the slide.

Passenger Caused Accident.

He was walking over a one-foot plank, steering a passenger who was nervous and upset. Of a sudden, in trying to prevent the passenger plunging off the board plank, Mr. Poulos slipped and hurtled 20 feet into the well-like hole.

He Covered Up.

Knowing how to protect himself Mr. Poulos covered his head with his arms, became limp and fell, as wrestlers do, to evade as much body jar as possible. He was badly dazed, but retained his senses and from the bottom of the newly created chasm, mud covered and wet, he almost, alone, managed to extricate himself.

Knew He Was Hurt.

Getting back to the surface Mr. Poulos sensed he had been hurt, but had no idea he was seriously injured. Completing the work of passenger transfers Mr.

CAUGHT IN A ROAD BREAK

Mrs. E. Hughes Sank With Car As Highway Gave Way

Stranger than fiction was the experience of Mrs. Edna Hughes, of Calpella, who had the Redwood highway open under her as she was driving north about three o'clock Sunday afternoon, dropping her car into a chasm just long enough and deep enough to hold it, her account being relayed to us by her son, Francis E. Hughes, a local postal employe. She had tried to stop her car as she saw the road start to give way, but the front wheels were already in the slipping ground and the car pitched down with the sinking mass.

Hairbreadth Rescue.

She was released from the car a moment before it was carried 100 feet below, into the Massoletti vineyard a mile this side of Calpella, as large masses of earth washed out leaving a great gaping cavity and carrying trees along with it. Luckily Herbert Hampton, of Ukiah, was but a few yards ahead. Having seen signs of the oncoming slide as he passed over what a moment later was a pit, he left his car to warn oncoming traffic and seeing the plight of Mrs. Hughes rushed to her aid just in time to save her from more than a few bruises. Mrs. Hughes is an employe of The Cecille Hotel.

Hard Trip From Susanville Here

A. Sanchez made a hurried trip to Ukiah from Susanville the last of the week, remaining but a few hours. Mr. Sanchez said the roads were open, but driving was very difficult and it was not possible to make any time.

TRADES COUNCIL

Trades Council members will meet at luncheon at The Rainbow Cafe today.

NAME MENTIONED

A. R. Bonnifield's name is heard frequently in connection with the office of sheriff. Whether Mr. Bonnifield will consent to run is not known, but, if he does, he will make a surprisingly strong contender for the place.

POULTRY FIRM BRANCH HERE

Lease Barker Hardware Storeroom For Local Business

Poultry Producers of Central California made arrangements yesterday to lease the Barker Hardware Company storeroom on North School street, opposite The Palace Hotel. Headquarters of the firm are in San Francisco and it has a membership of 6000. Demands of many local customers have been met through the Santa Rosa branch heretofore, and have grown to proportions to warrant a unit here which will be managed by George Eckaman, of Santa Rosa. A mill to cost half a million dollars will soon be built at Petaluma by the concern. Retail and wholesale handling of eggs is part of the merchandising scheme.

There will be pies, cakes, salads and preserves among the tempting array to prove a boon to the busy housewife. Food sale committee comprises Lloyd Briggs, chairman, and Jack Mason, who are receiving co-operation of the entire junior class headed by Leland Martin, president.

SHE WILL RUN

Mrs. Grace Frederickson has announced her intention of running for City Council member.

ITALIAN CLASS STARTS TONIGHT

Italian will be taught members of the community 12 of whom have already signed up, at classes starting this evening at the high school. Miss Alice Giovanetti, of Cloverdale, faculty, will be the teacher. Five dollars is the fee for the course and will be used to defray traveling expense of the instructor. The charge may be reduced in proportion to an increased number of pupils. Office of County Superintendent of Schools Taylor and Principal C. M. Fulkerson of the high school have co-operated to meet the request of those wishing to study the language.

NEWSPAPERMAN IS STILL LAID UP

A. R. O'Brien has entered on his third weeks' illness and continues to be laid up with a heavy cold. Mr. O'Brien's physician, Dr. J. J. Kirwin, had thought he would have been able to be at his office the first of the week, but Mr. O'Brien could not make it.

BABY CONFERENCE

Pre-school children may be brought for physical examination at the baby clinic to be held Monday at the grammar school by Dr. Edith Young from 10 to 11:45 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. School Nurse Fern Busch and a member of the Parent-Teacher Association will assist at the clinic.

FOUND WORKMEN BUSY

John Rupe drove down from Willits Monday afternoon, saying a large road crew was filling in mud holes with gravel and traffic alternated in single lines north and south in dangerous spots.

MAD GUNMAN'S FINAL EFFORT IS SUCCESSFUL

Jas. E. Tompkins, San Mateo Would-Be Killer, Suicides

WAS THIRD ATTEMPT

At Talmage For Having Tried To Shoot Wife-Daughters

He improvised a rope out of a bed sheet and, arranging a clumsy noose, less than an hour after he had been inspected by an attendant at The Mendocino State Hospital for The Insane, Talmage, Saturday morning, James E. Tompkins, 59, hanged himself.

Tried To Kill Family.

He was committed to the Mendocino State Hospital April last after failing in a murderous attempt to kill his twin daughters and his wife at San Mateo.

How He Did It.

The report of the coroner stated Mr. Tompkins had knotted the twisted sheet around his throat and had tied the other end to a metal ventilator grating high above his head. He then stepped off a lavatory and strangled to death.

Twice Tried Before.

Mr. Tompkins had twice previously attempted suicide since being sent to the asylum. He was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder after shooting his pet Collie dog and then opening fire on his wife, Mrs. Sueanna Tompkins, and twin daughters, Louise and Alice.

Girl Was Shot.

One of the girls suffered superficial wounds before Mr. Tompkins was overpowered and disarmed by San Mateo county police. Following his arrest, Mr. Tompkins was found insane. The shooting occurred April 17, 1937.

AUDITOR RECOVERED

County Auditor Paul Mathews returned to his office the first of the week following recovery from a severe cold which kept him away for a week.

HARD GOING

Leslie Durbin walked in from Vichy Springs, Friday stopping to get a copy of The Press. He said it was the first time he had been able to get into Ukiah in a week. He started to come in on horseback a day earlier, but even this method of transportation failed him in the badly flooded area.

STRANGE ECHO IS HEARD FROM OLD FRATRICIDE

Has Past Disgrace In Family Proven Too Much For Girl?

WHERE DID SHE GO?

Dropping From Sight Of Slayer's Child Still Unsolved

Over in Anderson Valley in 1919 Cleveland Marshall was operating a still. The rig he had constructed for manufacture of the poison he was consuming had, in one instance, where a copper coil should have been used, a piece of zinc pipe. The brew it produced was of a most brain-destroying character and the man was, undoubtedly, not in possession of his faculties.

Not Bootlegging.

Cleve Marshall was not known to have been a bootlegger. Sheriff R. R. Byrnes at no time developed evidence which tended to show Mr. Marshall was selling the output of his still. The officers, after the case broke, were of the opinion Mr. Marshall drank all of the liquor he made. For months he had remained at his isolated ranch, half insane. His family suffered from abuse and privation, but they uncomplainingly endured it and little of the real facts reached neighbors. Nothing of the true conditions got to the authorities.

Brother Stepped In.

However, a brother, Charles Marshall, found out what was going on and went to Cleve Marshall and upbraided him. Just when this occurred was never clearly established, but, within a short time after it was surmised to have taken place the two brothers clashed, Charles Marshall was murdered.

Feared Liquor Loss.

Facts developed at the time of the crime indicated the brother, who was later slain had threatened Cleve Marshall and one line of thought at the time was Cleve Marshall feared Charles Marshall, his brother, was going to inform the officers he was operating a still and thus deprive him of the source of his liquor.

Face Was Mutilated.

Whatever the insane urge was the body of the victim was found one morning on the porch of his ranch house. Hogs had attacked the remains following death and had eaten away most of the features of the victim. Cleve Marshall was brought here and arraigned before Judge J. C. Hurley. He was on the border of delerium tremens as he told the story of the fratricide. Judge Hurley held Cleve Marshall to answer and he was still half-insane when he was, later on, convicted before Judge H. L. Preston. Cleve Marshall served some 17 years, solid, at San Quentin.

Family Broken Up.

Following conviction of Cleve Marshall, his family of a wife and 11 small children, went away from the scene of the crime and settled in Sonoma county. Mrs. Marshall who was a woman who

HOW CAN A JURY KNOW THE TRUTH?

"NO ONE WILL EVER KNOW what happened at the Paul Wright home where Mrs. Wright and a family friend were shot down, because everyone concerned was drunk. A tragedy is ever likely to happen when people are drunk," truthfully writes the editor of The Santa Rosa Republican.

In any event, one psychiatrist said the double killing was an accident. Another mental specialist declared Mr. Wright could have done the shooting without being aware of such an act. Still another said Mr. Wright's train of thought had been swept from the track by a brain storm, like that made famous in the Thaw-White trial, and that he was therefore unaccountable. A fourth alienist thinks Wright is just plain guilty of murdering his wife and his best friend because he wanted to be rid of the woman.

The opinion of an alienist is supposed to be based on definite technical information, gained by psychological examination. When four of these mental experts get together, however, we get as many opinions as were expressed by the blind men who tried to describe an elephant after approaching the animal from different angles.

The object of holding a trial is to arrive at the truth, so justice may be done. How can any jury reach a decision without reasonable doubt, when our learned psychiatrists almost invariably disagree?

IT LEFT THAT OUT

THE OTHER DAY I read a story in a Mendocino county newspaper which told of a man having been picked up here because he had defrauded an innkeeper in Lake county. The article listed the sum the man owed for milk; it told the amount a merchant claimed for groceries; the figure coming to the druggist, too, was set forth, as was the claim for rental of a cottage. The man's name and that of his wife and little daughter, also, were provided all who might care to read them. Then the various items were added up and used in the story.

Well—

I wonder just how much good anyone derived by publication of that brand of news and, I also wonder why the paper had not stated the man who was arrested was a drug victim who suffered his-to-be-endured-for-life injuries on the battlefields of the Western front? That the wife was enduring poverty, was wandering from friends; the little girl was being deprived of regular schooling because of the loyalty of a woman who clung to a diseased and dying man who sustained all his sickness fighting for his country?

Maybe there are some things I am too old-fashioned to understand.

AND, FOR WHAT?

IN THE NEWS of the day I read Dr. Francis E. Townsend, of Long Beach, has been decided against by the United States Court of Appeals because some months ago Dr. Townsend was found guilty of contempt after he had stalked out of a Senate committee hearing questioning him about his plan to provide $200 a month for all persons over 65.

Dr. Townsend will serve his sentenc and he will be forced, also, to pay the $100 fine, but, what will it all avail? A coterie of pompous United States Senators will have had their views prevail, but in every little hamlet of the whole United States there are men and women in the evening of their lives today receiving old age pensions the different states are now providing them and which they would not now be receiving, had Dr. Francis E. Townsend not fought to get them (an unreasonable sum as a pension, it is true) but, had he not done so, they would not now be getting anything.

Really, it is too bad, the old fellow must go to jail for aiding the aged helpless.

HE QUIT, CLEAN

THE CINDERELLA MAN is not going to box any more. Jim Braddock took the count outside the squared arena. The rugged Irishman who, on relief work, trained on meagre expense funds and won the heavyweight championship — "in fairness to my wife and children" has finished his career. He is 32 and he has, it is believed, enough money to take care of himself.

One commendable thing about Jim Braddock is his square-shooter instinct. Just as soon as he became World's Heavyweight Champion he manifested a fine sense of honesty and public spirit by repaying all the money he got while on relief work—Jim Braddock will go down in athletic annals as a man who carried the ideals of sportsmanship into life itself.

of Mrs. Wagner in Petaluma. The shooting of Mr. Kessler climaxed a stormy scene in the Wagner home in Petaluma, officers claim. Mr. Kessler's wife had visited the couple and had denounced Mrs. Wagner. Later Mr. Kessler drove his wife back to Oakland and on his return the following day informed Mrs. Wagner he and Mrs. Kessler had become reconciled and he was planning to return to Oakland.

Mrs. Wagner began to show signs of mental instability the following day, lapsing into a "mental fog." She was found insane by a jury and committed to the institution at that time.

A Close Call.

A strange accident befell Mrs. Agnes Fleming and family Wednesday afternoon while driving to their home above Duncan Springs. Seeing the road ahead of them slipping, they were horrified when, with a roar, the whole road before them slipped into the canyon. Hastily leaving the car, they were just in time getting to a place of safety as the remainder of the road slid into the canyon carrying the car and its contents to the bottom of the gulch.

Do Your Part.

The Russian River Flood Control Association is in process of formation in the local district. There is considerable expense attached to the formation of this district and the Association is seeking membership from the people of the community which carries annual dues of $1. This is a project of vital interest to everyone in the valley and not only the property owners along the river. If the present condition continues, we are likely to wake up some morning and find our homes sailing down the river. Let's get behind this movement 100 per cent. Many have already joined. Don't be the last one. Send in or give your membership to Dave Henderson or Don Ward.

GREETED BY OLD FRIEND

Mrs. Harriet Kellogg Hayes, Assistant Pastor of the Full Gospel Church of Santa Clara, called at The Press office Monday enroute to Bethel Bible Institute at Centralia, Washington, to inquire after Mr. and Mrs. A. R. O'Brien. She was society editor of The Evening Record at Marshfield, Oregon, for three years, while Mr. O'Brien was publisher of the paper.

Weather Hampers Loggers Greatly

Former Sheriff R. R. Byrnes, now successfully operating a sawmill in Anderson Valley, was here on a supply-buying mission the last of the week. Bad weather is making it difficult for logging operations in the woods to be carried on these days, Mr. Byrnes says.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is a director of the State Board of Prisons of California

GOOD FRIDAY — GOOD GOD!

I know their cases backward and forward.

I have seen them in the death cell at Folsom.

I have pitied their poor, old mother, as I watched her in the yard at Folsom.

I believe in capital punishment and, when a man has it coming to him, I believe in executing him and, the fewer delays there are in a merited case, the better, both for society and the condemned man.

Today, because I happen to be a State Prison Director and take a stand my conscience tells me is right, I know the wolf-pack will pursue me. I smile beforehand when I contemplate how I will be pounded by the mob-minded, the revenge-hungry—They never skip a bet when it comes to mowing down a man who has the heart to stand up for an unpopular, undefended cause. Nevertheless a fear of what is going to happen is not going to prevent my saying—

John Brite and Coke Brite should not be hung.

John and Coke Brite were drunk one night and they had a fight with a man with whom they had trouble over a gate. The man ran away. After the fight the brothers drank more moonshine liquor and went to sleep. The man with whom they fought, in the early morning, came back with two other men. The story the Brite boys tell is they were awakened by being kicked by the man they had quarreled with and two other men. The intruders were armed. The Brite boys "went for their guns" and when the shooting was over the three intruders were dead. The fight took place in the mountains off from Yreka. The Brite boys fled to the hills. The county, because a year before a desperado had killed the city marshal at Yreka, became inflamed. Undoubtedly any posse searching the hills that had encountered the Brite brothers would have killed them, but the slayers evaded the posses.

The county offered a reward of $1000. Then the Spartan mother of the killers, believing she would have the money to hire a lawyer to defend her sons, agreed to get the boys to surrender—and she kept her word.

Now, no one who has not been in a "gang fight" some night, where all concerned were drunk, and who has not, unexpectedly and, more especially so, when half-asleep with a holdover-jag, been attacked by his enemies of the preceeding night, has a right to pass on the frame of mind the Brite boys were in. The writer, when a young fellow in the old southwest, has gone through these ordeals and he knows whereof he speaks.

New Mexico was that way.

The Brite brothers, half-drunk, aroused from their sleep, seeing their enemy of the night before back with reinforcements, did just what anyone knowing wild-human nature would look for them to do.

A seasoned officer would have taken it easy. The sleeping brothers should have been gun-covered and awakened and told the men in the camp were officers. There would have been no trouble. The Brite brothers say the invaders did not announce themselves officers, but began to beat them up. No denial of this, of course, came out. If any witnesses had heard different, they were dead.

The slayers roamed the hills.

Futile efforts for days were made to take them. At last the mother of the murderers, after the county had offered a reward of $1000 for their apprehension, delivered her sons to the authorities at Folsom prison.

Then the county welched and refused to pay Mrs. Brite the money she intended to use in defense of her boys. Defrauded, the old lady provided a pauper defense for her sons.

They were tried in the county where the killings occurred—in a county insanely aroused against them, instead of in another community where an unimpassioned consideration of their crime might have taken place and, naturally, they were convicted and now the date on which these two, poor, friendless men have been decreed to die has monstrously been set and it is —

Good Friday! — Good God!

ELK FOLK HERE

Mrs. Jerry Smith and son, Jerry, Jr., with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Alice Cooney, of Elk, came to Ukiah Wednesday for a visit with the J. D. Royce family.

AN EFFICIENT OFFICER

Traffic Officer Fred Hamilton, of Willits, who always gives an excellent official account of himself, was a countyseat visitor Wednsday, having been called here on official matters.

HELP KIDNEYS
To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste
Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.
You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

MANY LAMBS IN VALLEY DYING

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, Feb. 15. —The continued rains have played havoc with the rancher's dream of a record lamb chop, which they should have had with the mild winter and the luxuriant feed, but the steady rain has kept the lambs drenched and a high percentage of loss is reported among lambs born this month.

The local Farm Center is getting off to a good start with M. W. Tindall as chairman and he has appointed the following committees for the year: Program—Mrs. J. C. Edsall, Mrs. V. R. Rawles, R. Cox; farm home department—Mrs. I. C. Burke, Mrs. F. B. Cook, Mrs. M. C. Gowan, Mrs. F. M. Patterson, Mrs. M. W. Tindall.

To Be Pitied.

Mrs. Albert Ferrell has had more than her share of accidents lately. About two weeks ago she slipped in the bathroom and in falling struck her face on a gas heater, blacking both eyes and cutting a gash on the bridge of her nose, and last Monday while washing her fingers were caught and drawn into an electric wringer. She succeeded in turning off the power but was held a prisoner of the machine until her screams brought help and she was released. Her hand was painfully but not seriously injured.

Emergency Operation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ingram received word their granddaughter, Miss Eleanor Meyrick, of Berkeley, was rushed to Humboldt Hospital in that city and operated on for acute appendicitis at 9:30 p. m. February 5. Recent reports give her condition as satisfactory.

Had Pneumonia.

Donald Witherell, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Witherell, has been very ill with pneumonia but is recovering.

Took Down Wires.

A tree, uprooted by the wind and rain, fell across the rural telephone lines causing considerable damage at Indian creek during the recent high wind. Three telephone poles crashed, one of them falling into the swollen waters of the creek was carried away. It took a couple of men two days to repair the line.

Used Ambulance.

Norman Borini, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Borini, was the first person from this section to use the Ukiah ambulance, which was called Wednesday last to move him to Santa Rosa Hospital. Norman, who is a senior at the local high school, suffered a floor burn on his knee while playing basketball the Friday before; the injury became infected and blood poisoning developed and, alarmed at his condition, his parents had him moved to Santa Rosa. Mrs. Borini accompanied her son.

Died In Los Angeles.

Frank L. Wilkin was advised by Telegraph February 7 of the death of Mrs. Luttie Marr, sister of his late wife, which occurred in Los Angeles. While Mrs. Marr was only slightly known here, her daughter, the former Miss Rosalind Marr, will be well remembered by students of the local high school about 10 years back, as she made her home with the Wilkin family and attended high school here for some time. Mrs. Marr was an aunt of R. L. Wilkin and Mrs. J. Deady Farrer.

Club Tea Saturday.

The annual Library Tea of the Unity Club will be given Saturday at the home of Mrs. J. B. McCarty, with Mrs. R. E. Brown, Mrs. W. H. Clay, Mrs. Henry Nunn assisting Mrs. McCarty as hostesses. The affair is in charge of the Library committee and the social committee has been asked to join forces with them. Funds derived from the tea will be used by the Library committee to purchase additional books for the club library. Mrs. R. E. Brown heads the committee, with Miss Blanche Brown, Mrs. C. T. Ingram and Mrs. B. J. Adams to complete it.

STRANGE ECHO HEARD

slaved long hours to care for her little ones, while her husband abused her and the children while he was drunk, unable to keep her brood together, finally consented to allowing the authorities to find a home for several of them.

Time Passed On.

The years went by and Cleve Marshall, released from San Quentin, came back to Mendocino county, but he did not remain long. He dropped from sight and reports came later he, too, was in Sonoma county.

Case Is Recalled.

All of the facts had been forgotten until last week when inquiries came to Mendocino county officials about a girl, Barbara Jean Groom. At first the identity of Barbara Jean Groom remained a mystery. No one connected her with an old Mendocino county crime. Then it developed the girl sought by Oakland authorities was a daughter of a one-time Sebastopol woman resident by the name of Mrs. Cleveland Marshall, a years ago resident of Philo, and that she had been adopted, when a very small baby, by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Groom, a family of comfortable circumstances, of Oakland.

Changed Her Name.

Stanley L. Groom is head of a construction company in the Eastbay district. He and his wife had adopted Helen Marshall when she was 17 months old. The foster parents changed the name of the girl to Barbara Jean. The baby adapted herself to her new home and as years passed on went through the usual routine of girlhood. Then on January 21—18 years afterward —she dropped from sight. The missing young woman, now about 19, is a handsome girl.

Police Began Hunt.

The police were notified and a general alarm was sent out. Efforts to locate Mrs. Marshall have been handicapped by the fact she has, in the meantime, re-married.

Told Some Facts.

So carefully had Mr. and Mrs. Groom endeavored to protect their foster-daughter from learning anything about her family, Mr. Groom stated, she had not been told anything regarding her real parents. "Recently, however," Mr. Groom said, "we believed Barbara was old enough to be acquainted with the fact she had been adopted and we began by telling her little bits about herself. She was very interested, but we felt that to tell her too much at her age would not be beneficial. She had to be told enough to understand such things. All we told her was that her home had been in Mendocino county."

Became Very Curious.

The young girl, from other sources, it is understood, developed a great desire to know about her family and while she did not, in any manner, antagonize her foster-parents in demands to be informed, the fact remained there was a knowledge the young girl was deeply impressed by the information had, for the first time, Mr. and Mrs. Groom were not her real parents and, while there are facts lacking to support such a conclusion, nevertheless, it is not at all improbable the girl departed from her Oakland home for the sole purpose of coming to Mendocino county and ascertaining conditions of her birth here and who her parents were.

It May Be This.

If she has been to Mendocino county and ascertained the truth regarding the tragic days of her babyhood, she may have decided, at her own volition, to get as far away as possible from the tragic scene of her family's long-ago crime involvement and not be, in any manner, enmeshed in a white-slave operation.

A Sad Awakening.

From babyhood deprived of parents, sisters and brothers and having grown up in the belief her foster-parents were her own father and mother and then to be disillusioned when young womanhood was reached and find her father was the murderer of his own brother, that her mother is lost to her and that her brothers and sisters, farmed out as foundlings in childhood, are now scattered about the world, may prove too much for the pride of Helen Marshall and she may ostracize herself in some far remote place and be heard of no more.

Cleve Marshall Located.

Ernest Marshall is reported to have recently appeared at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Valenti, on the Greenwood road, seeking a trace of the missing girl. Mrs. Valenti, it is understood, is a sister of the missing girl. Contrary to stories which have appeared, quoting officials as the authority for the same, Cleveland Marshall is not now unlocated, but, instead, is making his home at the ranch of his daughter, Mrs. Marion Valenti on the south coast. Ernest Marshall has not seen his sister since she was one year old.

May Be Located.

The San Diego sheriff's office has sent an investigator to Jacumba and Escondido to check reports a girl, closely resembling Barbara Jean Groom, missing daughter of Stanley Groom, Oakland, had been reported there. After seeing a picture of the girl, W. E. Walker, Escondido, telephoned the sheriff that February 2 he picked up a man, about 40, accompanied by a girl who closely resembled her.

APPROACH IS GIVEN LIGHTS

Waldo Cut-Off Illuminated Right For First Time

California's first attempt to light highways for safer night driving was made on the north approach to the Golden Gate bridge where a three-mile stretch of lights has been installed from the bridgehead to Waldo Junction.

To Watch It.

The State Division of Highways will keep a careful check on accidents after the strip is placed in use and compare this check with previous records. The outcome of this research will determine advisability of lighting other highways.

Like The Span.

Lights of the sodium vapor type similar to those on the Golden Gate and Bay bridges have been burning for some weeks on the Sausalito lateral.

PASSING TRUCK BRINGS INJURY

Newhall Man In Howard Hospital Following Accident

William R. Niedrich, 42, of Newhall, received a fractured pelvis Tuesday night when the car in which he was riding toppled off the highway near Empire Camp and rolled over his body. The accident occurred about 9:30 o'clock.

What He Did.

According to State Highway Patrol Officer Fred Hamilton, who investigated the accident and brought the injured man to Howard Memorial Hospital for medical care, Mr. Niedrich was attempting to pass a truck that parked along the highway and drove too close to the edge of the road which had been loosened by the heavy rains of the past week.

Wife Was Walking.

Mr. Niedrich's wife, who was accompanying her husband on their trip north, was not in the car at the time of the mishap, having gotten out of the car and walked on to Empire a short time before. Dr. Raymond A. Babcock attended Mr. Niedrich's injuries.

MENDOCINO VISITOR

(Santa Rosa Press-Democrat)

Supervisor Ed Haehl of Mendocino county, was in Santa Rosa Monday on business. He passed the bulk of the time in the board rooms visiting with members of the Sonoma county board of supervisors.

FOUND ROAD BLOCKED

Mr. and Mrs. F. Bricarelli and daughters motored to Redwood Valley Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Poma and found the roads and detour almost impassable due to the torrential rains over the weekend which caused a bad slide between Ukiah and Calpella.

Due to flooded roads between her and Lakeport, Rev. E. H. Benson was unable to go there to conduct services Sunday morning at St. John's Episcopal church, as is his custom second Sundays of each month.

PIONEER STORM DAYS ARE BACK

Records Show Downpours Were Fashionable In The Past

(The Mendocino Beacon)

The rainfall to date is 43.92 inches, 5. 81 inches of which has fallen in the past week.

In Old Days.

This amount of rainfall may surprise some who have only lived on the coast in late years, but the old-timers can recall previous winters when it really rained. One of these was the winter of 1889-90 which compares well with the present one, having had a total of 44 inches on February 8, 1890, and 62.40 inches on May 7 of the same year.

At the present time we have to take our hats off to Willits which is about 10 inches ahead of us.

DUAL BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR KOSMOS GUESTS

Following the Indian program given by Mrs. Edith V. A. Murphey at Kosmos Club Thursday, vocal solos by Mrs. Margaret Byrnes were greatly enjoyed as she presented "When I Am With You," by Carson Robinson, and "Smiling Through," by Arthur A. Penn, with Mrs. Harold Holliday accompanying her. Pussywillow and flowering quince were used in decoration of the clubhouse.

Refreshments featured two beautifully decorated birthday cakes placed before Mrs. Edith V. A. Murphey and Mrs. Clarice Stipp, whose anniversaries occurred on the day of the meeting, and who were seated at either end of the long table centerpieced with Daphne. Mrs. Adlenta McCorrison had baked the cakes, decorating them in pink with white doves, and lighted pink candles. As the cakes were carried into the room members greeted the honorees, who were completely surprised by the celebration, by singing "Happy Birthday To You." Horoscope for the day was read by Mrs. Maude Elledge. Mrs. Murphey, as guest speaker, received from Mrs. J. Q. White a corsage of Daphne "for enthusiasm in her work" and violets "for constancy to ideals and objectives in it." Mrs. White sent the pretty token as she was unable to be present.

President Anna David conducted a short business meeting at which the 35 members in attendance voted to give $5 to the Health Camp, in line with philanthropic work of the club. Mrs. Will Van Dyke, Sr., was given a special greeting as it was the first time she had been able to attend in a very long time. Guests included Mrs. Vincent Giorno, Mrs. G. Brunton, and Mrs. L. B. Overholt, of Tacoma, Washington, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frances Heryford, club member.

Much credit was due the committee arranging the delightful afternoon and comprising Mrs. Belle Wilson, chairman, Mrs. Adlenta McCorrison and Mrs. Max Stowe.

OFFICIAL VISIT PLANNED

Kewanna Council, Degree of Pocahontas, held its regular meeting at Steiert hall Thursday evening. Two members were adopted into the council and the drill team engaged in practice preparatory to the official visit of the Great Pocahontas Olive Harrington, of Rosevale, Thursday, February 24. Committees appointed to arrange for the reception of the distinguished officer are: Mesdames Ina Branson, Mary Freeman, Kate Mattern, Frances Crinella, Georgia Carlson, Miss K. Garzini, refreshments; Mrs. Frema Howie, tables; Mesdames Betty Scholl, Elise Figone and Veda Collier, decorating.

SEWING CLUB HOSTESS

Wednesday of last week Mrs. Lilburn I. Gibson entertained members of her sewing Club at a delightful gathering at her Talmage home. BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED AT VALENTINE DINNER PARTY

Graceful heart-shaped placecards, with space on the inner leaf for sentimental secrets bearing a snapshot of winsome Miss Barbara Stewart, coupled with that of Peter Frey, disclosed to more than a score of guests engagement of the popular two when the attractive bride-elect entertained at a charmingly appointed dinner in the Canton room of The Palace Hotel last evening. Completing the festive Valentine appearance of the table were masses of lovely red and white flowers.

Miss Stewart has, since coming to Ukiah in the fall of 1936 to fill her present position of kindergarten teacher and music teacher in the local grammar school, won the admiration and friendship of young and old alike, proving a happy addition to local society. This very personable and talented young lady has generously assisted in club and community programs with vocal selections and piano accompaniments. Her faithful piano work with the Choral Club has continued since early fall. She is a member of the Saturday Afternoon Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club of Ukiah, as well as a member of Camelia Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and Jobs Daughters of Eureka. Miss Stewart is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Stewart of Eureka and the younger sister of Charles and Arthur Stewart. She is a graduate of the Eureka schools and of Humboldt State College at Arcata, where she received her teacher's certificate in 1935. Her first year of teaching was in Humboldt county.

Mr. Frey is assistant manager of The Palace Hotel, having previously held positions in leading hotels of San Francisco and Eureka. He is the son of Peter Frey, Sr., a member of a large and well known pioneer family of Ukiah. The delightful romance will lead the happy pair to the altar Easter week at the little Episcopal church in Eureka, where the bride-to-be has attended services for many years. Their home will be in Ukiah.

Second engaged couple to share honors of the evening was charming Miss Marie Dooley and Charles Shimmin, she receiving a basket laden with bridal shower gifts from those assembled, and he simultaneously greeted in song with "Happy Birthday To You," his natal day occurring on that date. The evening sped, replete with romance.

KOSMOS ADDRESS BY MRS. MURPHEY ON INDIAN ARTS

What the government is accomplishing for Indians and what Indians are doing for themselves in developing tribal crafts as a means of self-support, including uses of native plants, were interestingly reviewed by Mrs. Edith V. A. Murphey, for many years County Chairman of Indian Welfare, when she spoke before Kosmos Club Thursday afternoon at the community clubhouse. Much of her material was gathered while compiling notes on plants for the United States Plant Bureau, which project kept her in Nevada between May and October last year. During this time Mrs. Murphey reached nearly all the Indian communities in the state, especially marked on a highway map for her by the University of Nevada. These units varied from reservations with a maximum population of 600, to units of one to 20 dwellings. Total number of Indians in the places visited was between 6000 and 7000. Forest and range officers assisted her in her work, an old Indian, versed in lore of his people, rode at her right, and a young Indian at her left to interpret for him as they followed trails through the sagebrush.

Exhibits of handiwork of Washoe, Palute and Shoshone Indians, some of which were labeled Wa-Pai-Shone Indian Craft, were shipped to the speaker by the Carson Indian School especially for the occasion, as were many beautiful examples of Hoopa work from the Hoopa Agency of Humboldt county. These were displayed in interesting groupings for all to see, making an appropriate background for the speaker. Gloves, gauntlets and moccasins, some richly beaded and those of tan color, having a spicy tang of juniper bark with which they are smoked, are made by the women. Most of the bead work and basketry represents crafts taught the children.

Beaded designs are strikingly wrought in belts, a tobacco pouch with red flowers of the opuntia (red prickly pear), wrist bands (used by the children in place of Navajo silver bow guards when shooting arrows), napkin rings, perfume bottles, miniature baskets, and an extremely ornamental war bag. A photo was shown of a Hoopa girl wearing an old-time dress of beaded buckskin, highly prized and insured for $1000. Indian dolls, similar to the buckskin toys of the tribe were dressed as modern Indian children. A sand painting in a glass tube showing colorful mesas against a desert sky was made of vari-colored powders ground from stones by the children.

Washoe baskets had an unusual beauty of contour and design detail, fashioned of a unique overhand stitch and made of willow and redbud, the latter gathered on the California side of Lake Tahoe. A shallow basket for winnowing parched pine nuts was an interesting example of Washoe work.

Paiute Indians employ the "one-stitch" technique. Examples of this craft were shown in a cradle board, having the elaborate design used for a girl, whereas a straight border is woven for a boy; a desert water bottle made of willow, made water tight by being pitched inside and out with pine gum, and pointed at the bottom so it may be set upright in the sand, and other baskets.

Shoshone work was illustrated by a beautiful butterfly basket made at Las Vegas, much like the Pomo weave. For this the white root of slough grass is used as a warp foundation for a woof of the grasslike leaf of the same plant. The black butterfly design is made of black devil's horn, or martynia, buried in blue mud to set the color before using.

Hoopa art was exemplified in various covered baskets and squaw caps, the latter being worn by widows who cut their hair, smear it with pitch and (unnecessarily) vow not to comb it for a year after the death of their spouse. This bowl-like headgear is being adopted by modern men of the tribe. The designs are very lovely, one in particular seeming to have the step-like lines of present day New York architecture. As Hoopas believe death would follow the making of flawless designs, they purposely make imperfections in them. Yellows are introduced by means of porcupine quills dyed with yellow moss similar to that growing on our country fences, black is obtained by use of five-fingered fern stems, white by bear grass, terra cotta from alder bark, and tan from roots of the Nigger pine.

Plants used as foods include cactus, camas, cattails, chokecherry, currant, dock, elderberry, garlic, juniper berries, loco seed, mustard, onion, plums, sunflower, wild celery and others.

Medicinal uses of native plants among these Indians also cover a wide field. For hiccoughs a tea from valerian root is prescribed; for eye trouble, flax seed poultice; for snake bite, wild corn or false mash root is applied; an aching tooth is relieved by placing wild iris root, spearmint or peppermint in the cavity; a cardiac stimulant is derived from night blooming Cereus; scalds and burns are soothed with sand dock root; and the whole blue gilia plant is steeped for tea in treatment of tuberculosis in children. Medicines are also derived from Indian balsam, sagebrush, Oregon grape, juniper, antelope brush, rabbit brush, wormwood, trumpet phlox, sweet anise, fir, pine needles. Some plants with curative properties are yet unidentified and have been sent to Washington for naming.

Among photographs were a group of Klamath Indians in the costumes worn for their jump dance performed at the State Fair two years ago; Joshua trees and cacti of many varieties; a portrait of Death Valley George, a Shoshone over 100 years old, who, as a boy of 10, saw white men for the first time when the Jay Hawkes party arrived in California, at the same time the famous Donner party came here; and reproductions of Charles Russell's paintings of wild horses.

Mrs. Murphey concluded her address by saying: "In Nevada there is an undercurrent which runs swiftly beneath the ways of modern Indian life. It is the attachment to their ancient heritage. It is seasonal and recurrent. Throughout most of the year, it is in abeyance, but when autumn comes, the harvest of the year, the faithful few venture forth over trails known only to them to gather treasures from mountain or desert, which are necessities to the happiness and well being of the tribe. In the language of old-time treaties, this shall be done 'as long as grass grows and water runs'."

Festoons of gay red hearts from the lights, red candles, Japonica, pussywillow and daffodils made the rooms festive. Valentine word games were followed by a game of hearts in which Virginia Smith and Terry Sandelin were awarded prizes. Refreshments were served at the card tables which were decorated with dainty bouquets. Attractive red salads and ice-box pudding adorned with hearts were in keeping with the holiday spirit. Assembled for the happy affair were Jean Thornton, Barbara Mustard, Virginia Smith, Nadine Frasier, Kathleen Davis, Irene Sandelin, Barbara Scott, Barbara James, Carol Kasch, Ermine Leonard, Terry Sandelin, Martin Stipp, Jack and Bob Royce, Gordon Foot, Bill Cleland, Ernest Banker, Bill and Bud Prather and Keith Leonard.

DAUGHTER CONFIRMED

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Smyth witnessed confirmation of their eldest daughter, Mary, at the Anglican Church of the Advent, San Francisco, Sunday evening, with Bishop Edward Parsons officiating at the beautiful service. Their son, Joseph, and little daughter, Margaret, motored with them to the bay area Saturday to enjoy the weekend with Mary, who is being educated at a convent there. Mrs. Celia Morris accompanied the Smyths to San Francisco where she was met by friends with whom she passed the weekend at Burlingame. She also attended the confirmation service Sunday evening and reception for Bishop Parsons in the parish house adjoining the church, which followed. The return drive to Ukiah was Monday morning.

While approaching San Francisco late Saturday afternoon a marvelous rainbow phenomenon was seen from the middle of the Golden Gate bridge. Sudden appearance of the sun through the storm produced a complete semi-circle of rich prismatic colors, spanning the same distance as the bridge, with either end seeming to rest on the water just inside the Golden Gate. Seen from another angle shortly after, the lovely arch was rimmed by a second and fainter rainbow.

Conditions at Kekewaka were the worst on the northern line, according to N. W. P. officials and definite information as to when rail travel would be resumed was not known yesterday.

Bad At Dos Rios.

Two big slides covered the N. W. P. tracks between Dos Rios and Willits for three days early last week but maintenance crews cleared the debris-littered sections late in the week.

Controlled Auto Traffic.

Automobile and truck travel north over the Redwood Highway was being controlled through to Eureka. Some sections of the highway were damaged by slides, debris and washcuts but the highway has been passable and open during the storm, according to reports.

Coming This Way.

With the valley route closed at Dunsmuir, all automobile travel into Oregon has been routed over the Redwood highway.

Streams Are Raised.

Streams throughout Willits and vicinity have been raised considerably by the heavy rains but all have been reported within their banks and no damage by high water has been reported as yet.

Snow Breaks Lines.

Snow-covered power lines snapped under the strain of their heavy burden between Redwood Valley and Potter Valley last Friday morning and Willits and vicinity was plunged into darkness until Sunday morning at two o'clock. The breaks in the power lines occurred on the long structures between the two valleys and workmen, hampered by the adverse weather conditions, worked hastily to repair the damaged lines and restore electric current to Willits. It was the only time of the storm that the current was interrupted and cause for the length of time used in repairing the broken line was due to the fact the snow had battered down telephone lines as well and communication between the line repair crew and the local office was entirely cut off.

Six Inches At Willits.

First snow of the season to fall in Willits covered the city with from four to six inches of snow early Friday morning. The snow started to fall about two o'clock in the morning and continued to decorate buildings and the city in general for about an hour.

Took Down Wires.

A huge oak tree, rocked by heavy wind that accompanied the rain storm Wednesday morning, crashed through telephone wires and suspended service in the southern part of Willits for a short period of time.

Then It Rained.

Heaviest rainfall of the week was recorded Tuesday last when 2.20 inches fell at Willits during the previous 24-hour period. Rainfall total at this same time last season was 20.27 inches, according to the depot statistics. It is three times that now.

See These Figures.

A reading of the rainfall record at Tan Oak Park at eight o'clock Wednesday morning showed a total of 75 inches of rain for the season. At Cahto, on the Winchester ranch where the season's rainfall is recorded, 88.40 inches of rain had been recorded up to Wednesday morning. At the Adams ranch in Sherwood Valley 66.60 inches of rain had fallen for the season up until early Wednesday.

Crews Work Overtime.

All county roads were open last night, according to Supervisor Duane Bittenbender but the rains of the past week had made travel over the roads quite dangerous in several places.

Open And Shut.

Several slides closed the Willits-Fort Bragg road for several hours Wednesday night but the debris was cleared away and travel was resumed over this route Thursday morning.

Worst Is Feared.

Fears of continued heavy rains causing great damage to roads and bridges in his section of the county were expressed by Supervisor Bittenbender.

Will Help Much.

The proposed WPA camp of 150 men to be stationed at Farley during the rehabilitation of the Longvale-Dos Rios highway will be established just as soon as the present storm clears, Supervisor Bittenbender said.

Would Establish A Date Of Death

W. D. Vaughan has filed a petition to establish the fact of death of Michael Vaughn, his father, as of December 20, 1898, and to terminate the homestead interest of the father in certain land the title of which passed to Mary Elizabeth Vaughn, the surviving widow, at the death of the husband. Mrs. Vaughn died December 14, 1928, and the petitioner was made administrator of her estate. Hearing is set for February 18.

Tough Going For Big Coast Trucks

The Daniels brothers, enroute north from Greenwood with two truckloads of machinery for the Rockport Redwood Company, stalled one of their trucks on a soft piece of road at Wages creek, Monday, and when an attempt was made to pull it out an axle broke on the stalled truck.

Edward W. James attended Rotary luncheon at Cloverdale last week in company with C. E. Moody, of Santa Rosa.

"So the People May Know"

The Bridge—For Revenue, Pap or Service?

The more the Golden Gate Bridge is in service, the more the public reads of the antics of its managers and watches the squandering of its competency in payments of salaries for highly paid officials who by the very nature of things now have relatively little to do, the longer we watch maneuverings to eliminate competition so that tariffs can be held up, the more the people of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District are beginning to wonder if their bridge is being operated for revenue only, for the satisfying of political obligations or taking care of friends or for the convenience and service of the public.

From the bridge district offices just yesterday came a report in which the management appears to pride itself on collecting a larger sum of money from a smaller number of travelers during the month of January than December. The 229,086 cars which passed through the toll gates in December which included a 10-day period of "bargain rates" were responsible for $92,953 being paid in tolls. In January traffic fell off by some 13,000 cars to a 216,388 total, but revenues were increased, mind you, by over $2000. Despite a sharp drop in traffic, there was a greater income which, of course, came out of the hide of the traveling public for whose benefit and convenience we had thought all along the modern bridge, that great twentieth century model of transportation, had been built.

The political patronage situation which is omnipresent in bridge operations is particularly distressing to the people who are obliged to pay the tariffs. We see thousand dollar a month officials being given additional $100 per day assistance every time something unusual crops up to occupy their time and attention; we see a $12,000 general manager ousted and two jobs created, one paying $7500 per year and the other $7200. We see a $250 a month business seeker removed and the salary of another official boosted $100 per month, just about the time two $125 per month stenographers get their salaries slashed ten dollars monthly in the interest of economy.

Then on top of it all, we see but very few of the 14—14, mind you—bridge directors missing any of those three monthly meetings which last about two hours or so and for which each of the 14 who answers rollcall draws his $20, plus mileage and expenses. Now that the bridge is built and all that remains to be done is to keep it in repair, see that the tolls are collected and the accounts kept in apple-pie order, it does seem strange that it requires 14 directors to operate a $35,000,000 bridge when five, six or seven members of the State Toll Bridge Authority look after the affairs of the $70,000,000 span to the eastbay.

The above article appeared last week in The San Rafael Independent ..and.. some ..of.. the assertions made therein may appear strong to newspaper readers, but, the editor of The Republican Press, who is a member of the Board of Directors from Mendocino county, can tell them all that is written above, and more, is true—

We have an utterly useless and unnecessary Bridge Manager who was browbeaten on directors by Abraham Murphy Hirschberg, bank and fraternal bodies, whose entire record of accomplishment since he began taking the sinecure he does not earn has been to cut the salaries of two girl stenographers $20 a month.

This man, a former vice-presideent of the Bank of America, after he became 65 was retired by the Bank age limit—he is now 67 and for years before going to the Bank had been doing pile driving work for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, chief owner of the Southern Pacific-Golden Gate Ferries Co., now fighting the Golden Gate Bridge.

He should be discharged.

George H. Harlan, bridge attorney, who draws $12,000 a year and his expenses—and who has gotten more than $100,000 for legal services, would now be allowed by some directors $100 a day for an assistant to help him try a case in which the district is interested. The Mendocino county Bridge Director believes Mr. Harlan's salary should be placed at $5000 a year and he should pay whatever aides he hires, if he finds himself inefficient in defending the cause of the bridge, out of his own salary.

No purchase of the Golden Gate Ferry fleet should be made by the Golden Gate Bridge District.

Truck tolls should be kept as they are.

A 30-cent rate for automobiles should be set, at once, by the Golden Gate bridge.

QUICK ACTION SAVED

Poulos went back to The Maple, but soon realized he had been hurt. He was suffering great pain and his leg was not tracking. Soon afterwards Mr. Poulos was taken home and Dr. J. J. Kirwin called.

Found Leg Broken.

Dr. Kirwin had the leg X-rayed and the films developed the fact Mr. Poulos had sustained a broken bone in his hip. By this time results of Mr. Poulos' ordeal began to develop. The tendons in his legs were found badly strained and from the hips down Mr. Poulos' legs were an almost solid black and purple. The arches of the victim's feet were badly swollen, but not broken, although Mr. Poulos dropped almost straight down and struck on a rock formation, his feet being called on to endure the entire shock.

In Bed A Month.

Mr. Poulos will be confined to his bed a month, or longer, Dr. Kirwin believes. At first it was feared Mr. Poulos had been injured internally but a fuller check has convinced the physician there is little probability of other serious complications developing.

Contractor E. R. Heinsman, of Lakeport, who had the contract for putting down a 30-foot well on the high school grounds, has finished his job and left for home Sunday.

Hampers Building.

Bad weather has slowed up work on the school building and the ground is getting so soft and cut up it is hard to get lumber and other material on the site.

Called At Dock.

The steamer Vanguard continues to make Point Arena a regular port of call these days.

On Reynolds Ranch.

Sunday was moving day in and about town. Elba Gordon moved his family out to the old Frank Reynolds home, as Artie Titus moved his family from the Reynolds place to the Andrew Christensen place at Manchester. His brother, Stanley Titus, moved from the Christensen place into the house Elba Gordon moved out of.

Otto Scott Is Dead.

Mrs. Kate Jakway returned from San Francisco Sunday where she was called by the death of her nephew, Otto Scott, who fell while painting a house and suffered injuries that would not necessarily have meant death but he contracted pneumonia and passed away within the week. Mr. Scott was well known on the coast having passed a couple of weeks here in December fishing.

Back At College.

Miss Lorraine Bishop returned to Santa Rosa Junior College Monday after passing a week at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bishop, of Manchester, passed the weekend in Santa Rosa where their daughter, Miss Darlene, is at the Horton home.

Given A Farewell.

Saturday evening the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gordon gathered at their home to give them a farewell party. The couple will be missed but it is less than half hour's drive to the new home and it's our guess there will be many "get-togethers."

Came For Lodge.

Bert Begley and E. H. Dunbar were in from the river Saturday evening to attend Masonic lodge, Mr. Dunbar going on to Oakland Sunday to doctor and visit a week or so.

LEFT FOR SERVICE

John V. Yasaitis left early last week to accept a position as radio operator in the government air transport service, under the Department of Commerce. Mr. Yasaitis has been a member of the Bank of America staff during the past four years and during the last year has been with the local branch from time to time.

NEW ANTELOPE TALES FOLLOW FORD STORIES

How Fast Can Antelope Run Still Is Undetermined

A VETERAN EXPLAINS

Game, Like Human Beings, Differ In Endurance

At least the stories of antelope speed have gained momentum since The Press came out last week giving various versions on the subject. We were especially delighted with the impartial verdict one of our readers came in to give us. He says all the men quoted were correct—K. C. Karchner who wrote in Outdoor Life of an antelope exceeding the 62-mile rate of his car; Roy Chapman Andrews, scientist, reporting he clocked Mongolian antelopes at 60 milese an hour; Chas. C. Ren, professional guide of Sonora, who claims 70 miles for these fleet creatures; and Marvin E. Ford, who is positive 45 miles is their limit since driving his car alongside a herd in Nevada.

It Pleases Him.

Yates Phillips is the man who agrees with them all, disputes none, and is quietly amused at discrepancies in their tests, which, he says, are due to antelopes being extremely high strung, their degree of nervousness definitely regulating their celerity and making it absolutely unpredictable.

What He Knows.

He has seen herds become so excited its members either milled about or stampeded aimlessly, and cowboys of Wyoming, where he was hunting guide for years, tell of the animals "keedoed" when they jump up and down on the same spot, seemingly in a state of hypnosis. To his knowledge, he adds, there are several instances of roping antelope from a mustang following a chase of a mile.

Annoyed A Coyote.

On the other hand his experience leads him to believe antelope easily capable of 70 miles an hour, as he has seen them outdistance greyhounds by running twice as fast as their pursuers. A singular experience was his when he lay in a brush shelter, he saw a coyote run full speed for a great distance across a swale in the prairie, six antelope circling about him and one or another of them occasionally butting him playfully.

Is Proud Of Trophy.

A fine specimen of antelope horn was exhibited by Mr. Phillips, who keeps it as a trophy of the animal he killed 50 years ago. It measured about 10 inches and is, he said, of average size. The horns are never shed and never grow beyond the length attained when the antelope is full grown. The broad base, from which grows one long, gracefully turned point, and one short one, is curved and is immediately above the quick-seeing eye. An antelope's curiosity will cause it to draw quite near an object waved from the hiding place of a hunter, according to Mr. Phillips.

Attorney Wakefield Taylor, of Woodland, was a guest of his aunts, Misses Nettie and Pearl Taylor, of Ukiah, over the weekend.

JUDGE LARSON SHOWS 'EM HOW

No Expense To Taxpayers When Willits Official Rules

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, Feb. 15.—During the period of 13 months Judge C. A. Larson, of Willits, handled in Little Lake justice court a total of 190 cases—criminal 47, motor vehicle 54, civil cases 21 and small claims 68. During the above period the actual operation costs of the Willits justice court to the county and taxpayers amounted to $802 and the actual income of the office was $807.50. Therefore, the Willits justice court, under Judge C. A. Larson, did not cost the county or taxpayers one cent of tax money to operate and showed a small profit.

A Record To Be Proud Of.

Judge Larson should be congratulated upon the operation of his court without costing the taxpayers any money. Very few county offices of any kind can claim this fine record.

May Apprehend A Coast Offender

Martin Olson, who was the victim of a hit-run driver last week, is recovering nicely in Redwood Coast Hospital. His broken leg has been set and despite his advanced age, 78 years, is responding to treatment. The Highway Patrol, which has been quietly investigating the accident, announced they have several leads, one of which may result in the arrest of the guilty party.

Workers For Biggar Highway Will Be Cared For

CARPENTERS ON JOB

Crews Have Started To Erect Cabins For Workers

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, Feb. 15.—By the time this paper is published Willits will have had more than five feet of rain for the season. Sunday morning the record kept at the depot showed 59.89 inches and that small balance has already been passed. This has been one of the longest drawn out storms for almost a generation for it has rained every day this month and the storm started in January. The railroad between Willits and Eureka has been closed by slides the past week and passengers, mail and express are now being carried by bus and trucks.

Open To Coast.

The railroad connecting Willits and Fort Bragg has been open all of the time but today the Fort Bragg train was about two hours late on account of several trees falling across the track.

Little Interrupted.

The Redwood highway has been open all of the time with the exception of having been closed for short periods by slides. Men are patrolling the highway day and night and as soon as a slide is reported a crew is rushed to the place and the road is made passable. The highway over the Siskiyou mountains is now closed on account of slides and snow and all travel between here and Portland is now coming this way.

Roads Hold Up.

The county roads are in very good condition considering the long drawn out storm and have only been closed for a few hours at various times on account of minor slides.

Hills Are White.

We had the first real snow of the season Saturday but in the valley it was not enough to cover the ground and soon melted. All of the high mountains were white as were also the lower hills. Sherwood Valley people reported one foot on the level and two feet covered Bald hill which adjoins the valley.

Many Are Lambing.

For many years sheepmen have lambed in February and this is now going on all over this section. The ewes are reported as being in splendid condition but lambs born on the range are said to be dying on account of bad weather conditions.

Oliver Olsesen was called to Sacramento on important business early this week.

Has A Son.

Mrs. Myron DeCamp has received word her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Cramer, gave birth to a son at Eureka on the tenth. This makes her ninth child, eight of whom are living. Mrs. J. M. Rupe, Mrs. Cramer's aunt, is now at Eureka looking after the children.

George Rupe came up from Lamoor a few days ago for a short visit with his parents.

Baby In Family.

A daughter was born to Mrs. Emmett Hayes, of Longvale, at Howard Memorial Hospital, Monday, and mother and babe are reported getting along splendid.

At The Hospital.

Mrs. Harriet Cresser, of Arcata, is at the hospital in a critical condition. Viola Timball, of Fort Bragg, underwent a major operation a few days ago and has now passed the crisis. Roy Lewis, of Camp Northwstern, was operated on for appendicitis a few days ago by the camp doctor.

Talked Sewer System.

The city council at its regular monthly meeting the first of the week devoted most of its time to a discussion of the proposed sewer bonds. The ordinance had its first reading and calls for an election on April 12 at which voters are asked to vote $25,000 in bonds to make sewer additions. The southwestern part of town is now without sewer facilities and from a sanitary point of view is reported as being in a deplorable condition. Changes will also have to be made in the present sewage disposal plant and part of the money will be used for this purpose.

Meet Saturday.

Plans were completed this week for the meeting of the Redwood Empire Exposition Commission meeting in Willits Friday and Saturday, February 25 and 26. The Exposition Commission, consisting of two commissioners from each of the nine Redwood Empire counties will meet in Willits Friday evening, February 25, and a meeting of the entire membership of the commission with members of all boards of supervisors of the Redwood Empire counties will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday, February 26.

About 50 Expected.

At this time reservations for the Saturday meeting amount to 47 reservations, with many more expected within the next few days. Plans for finances, complete program and kind of buildings and exhibits will be fully discussed by the Commissioners and Supervisors.

Saved His Brother.

Louis Hopper is in Willits after an exciting winter at Hopper Bros. split-stuff camp northwest of Cummings. Two weeks ago Mr. Hopper was a participant in an accident in which he lost his car but saved his brother, Clarence, from possible death in the swift current of Eel river. The two brothers, according to an account of the mishap, were taking Louis' car across the river on a barge when it suddenly turned on its side, throwing Louis and the car into about 12 feet of water. Clarence, not being able to swim, clung to the barge until his brother swam ashore to get a boat in which to transport him to land.

Get Feature Story.

Miss Zoe Dell Lantis, beautiful 1939 World's Fair Golden Gate International Exposition Theme Girl of San Francisco, who was a Willits visitor last year to advertise Frontier Days and guest of the Willits Fire Department and Frontier Days Association during the eleventh annual Willits Frontier Days Celebration, was featured in a full page write-up last Sunday in The American Weekly. Many local citizens have snapshots and photos taken last year when Miss Lantis was a Willits visitor advertising the coming World's Fair and doing her part to advertise Willits and Frontier Days. Miss Lantis will no doubt be a Willits visitor again this year doing her part to keep Willits and Frontier Days before the eyes of the citizens of California. Miss Lantis is a wonderful horseback rider and stated her visit to Willits was enjoyed and she would make plans to again come to Frontier Days in 1938.

Slides Have Started.

Several slides came in on the Willits-Fort Bragg highway Saturday and all travel has been held up. Supervisor Bittenbender has several crews at work and it is said the highway will be reopened tomorrow.

The Dos Rios-Covelo road is once more out of condition but it also will be open tomorrow.

Come This Way.

The Greyhound stages that are on the Ashland, Oregon and Redding run over the Siskiyou mountains are now using the Redwood highway. These stages cover the route between Portland and San Francisco.

Had To Transfer.

A small strip of the Redwood highway about five miles north of Ukiah slid out Sunday night and northbound and southbound stages meet on opposite sides and transfer passengers and baggage. Large trucks cannot get through and are being held at Ukiah and Willits until the repairs are made. Light cars cross the bridge at Calpella and come out on the Potter Valley road at The Forks.

Started On Camp.

Postmaster Ray Moran came in from Farley Monday and reports storm conditions as being very bad in his section. The railroad north of Farley is still blocked by slides and washouts and their only communication with Willits is to travel on the work trains that are run at very uncertain hours. Mr. Moran also reports a band of carpenters have started work on the buildings which will be used by the WPA crew of 150 men who will be assigned to overhaul Biggar highway.

MY DOG AND I

(By L. Curran Clark)

We were pals,
My dog and I,
Until one day
He said "Good-bye."

He talked to me
With eyes and ears
And wag of tail,
For many years.

I hear that voice
From distant sphere,
In joyous tones,
So full of cheer.

We'll meet again,
My good old friend,
For happy days
That know no end.

It is a recognized fact Republican Press Want Ads are wonderfully effective result-getters—and economical, too.

NEW LAUNDRY SIMPLIFIES WASH DAY

Arduous wash days become simple for the householder with this new Bendix home laundry, recently developed appliance which washes, rinses and damp-dries clothes ready for the line in a single series of automatic operations. Two electric dials govern the time of soaking, washing and rinsing — depending on the nature of the materials — and the only operator effort required after setting the dials is the adding of soap, as the housewife demonstrates for a neighbor. The compact machine is extremely tidy, and its speed cuts wash day time in half.
